Thank you Dayna and Clark! You let us see how beautiful the Wood River Valley is without lots of houses around. It was cool to see how many animals depend on everything we have in the forests and rivers. We liked seeing the big, gigantic sage brushes. We learned that sage brush is dying down; there used to be a lot more. Thanks for showing us the shrimp and the snails and how the water bubbles up into the creek. It's great that you let people raft and play at Silver Creek and ~~we~~ ^{we} that can take walks there.
