

The Sage School Enters the Real Estate Market

One Kestrel Nest Box at a Time....

A group of students is spending Friday afternoons building, installing, and monitoring American Kestrel nest boxes. Made of untreated cedar with a lovely sloped roof, three inch entry hole, and bark-chip furnished floor, these single family homes are sure to be a hit from Chocolate Gulch to Picabo. A collaboration with The Peregrine Fund and local home owners, the American Kestrel Project kicked off this March.
